HONOLULU, FEB. 12, 1889. Marine arrivals since last report have been the S. S. Australia, bark W. B. Godfrey, and schooner Jennie Walker, from San Francisco; bark Alex. McNeil and barkentine Wrestler from Newcastle, and S. S. Mariposa from the Colonies.

Departures have been the bark C. O. Whitmore, barkentine Planter and S. S. Mariposa, for San Francisco, the U. S. warship Vandalia for Samoa, and British warships Conquest and Hyacinth for Hongkong. The bark Dunscore is ready to sail for Portland, and the barkentine S. G. Wilder for San Francisco.

Heceipts of raw sugar have been 39,925 bags. Only 180 bags of rice are reported. The following extracts are from Williams, Dimond & Co.'s circular, per steamer Australia, San Francisco, Jan. 29: SUGAR-Prices of refined in this market have continued to decline, and there have been the following reductions in the pricklists of both Refineries since our last cir-enlar: January 3d, %c; 4th, %c; 11th, %c; 15th, %c. On the 18th the California Refinery made another reduction of &c. which was followed by the American on the 19th by a similar reduction. Since then there has been no further change, and the prices above dates, but not effecting the basis. Eastern and Foreign Markets, There is very little to note during the past month as to the general condition of the New York and European markets. There has been no general demand in New York, and Refineries have abown little disposition to buy, being well stocked for present requirements. By bolding off they expect to exert a depressing tendency in the primary markets, and later on buy at lower values. Holders on the other hand are backed by the strong statistical position of the world's supplies, and the outlook certainly does not favor lower

CORRESPONDENCE.

We do not hold ourselves responsible for the statements made, or opinions expressed by our correspondents.

MR. EDITOR: Having had occasion to ride over a certain part of our Hamakua Government road, and contrasting their present state to the nonentity of a Government road heretofore, I would wish to make a few remarks.

Our district of Hamakua, Hilo excepted, is probably as serrated a landscape as any on the Hawaiian Islands-it is literally a mass of hills and hollows. A few months ago it was almost an impossibility to drive over the road for a distance of six or eight miles. Now, thanks to the energetic work of our Road Board, we can easily gallop over our hereto-fore serrated hills and mud-bound hollows, passing over them as a vista able fact, that our road supervisors in times past did not attend to our roads; possibly on account of no money or probably too much. A year ago should anyone have alluded to the possibility of a carriage running over our roads, the matter would be simply derided. Now, we can ride in carriages or gallop on horseback through Hamakua as easily as on the Island of Oahu. We can meet the energetic enterprise of our Road Board with grateful thanks, and we can also commend Mr. J. R. Mills (who has given much of his unoccupied time to the interests of our Hamakua Road Board), to strangers and friends who may possibly pass through our district, and who may make remarks about our recent improvements and our hitherto impassable roads. He will assuredly tell them that through the energetic endeavors of J. M. Horner at Kukaiau, of W. H. Rickard at Honokaa, and W. Horner at Kukuihaele (these gentlemen forming our Road Board) has been consummated the reality of a pleasant carriage drive through Hamakua. Mr. Mills has had charge of most of the roads, and should these gentlemen have full power to act we firmly believe in two or three years there would be no difficulty in driving a steam road engine through our heretofore almost
